Kerrville Main Street Congratulates Grape Juice on the 5 year Anniversary

Kerrville, Texas (October 24, 2014) – Kerrville Main Street would like to congratulate Grape Juice on celebrating their 5th year anniversary in Historic Downtown Kerrville. Grape Juice moved five years ago from a small building in Ingram to their location in the heart of downtown Kerrville at 623 Water Street.

Patrick and Keri Wilt make an amazing husband a wife team with their successful business. “It’s their forward thinking and ability to see the potential of our Historic Downtown that impresses me,” stated Ashlea Boyle, Special Projects Manager, “They are both very involved in the community, whether it’s volunteering for events or their involvement with organizations, they have truly played an integral part in the revitalization efforts of the Main Street district. We are so grateful that Grape Juice has found its niche downtown and its home for many years to come!”

Keri is the President of the Historic Downtown Business Alliance whose mission is to promote a strong business climate in Historic Downtown Kerrville by developing ideas and programs to promote existing businesses and to attract new businesses. In her role as President of HDBA, she is an Ex-Officio member to the Main Street Advisory Board.

Grape Juice serves “food you know with a twist” that has been featured in Texas Monthly, Texas Highways, and even the New York Times. They have also served over 83,000 sliders made with Broken Arrow Ranch Venison since opening its doors in Downtown. “Some of our most popular items are our scratch made daily soups, the smoked gouda mac and cheese, antelope nachos, quail tacos, and our specialty flatbread pizzas,” stated Keri Wilt.

The Wilts gave back to their customers on Saturday, October 18th with complimentary drinks and munchies on their back patio. “We are so thankful for the support this community has given us that we wanted to take the chance to shake their hands and say thank you,” stated Patrick Wilt.
